

Workshop:

Economic Challenges for Energy

Madrid, 16 de febrero de 2018 / February 16, 2018

CV

Elena Verdolini

Verdolini holds a degree in Political Science from the University of Pavia, a Master of Public Administration and a Master of Arts in International Studies from the University of Washington, Seattle and a PhD from Università Cattolica del Sacro Cuore, Milan. She focuses on applied analysis, with an interest in the dynamics of innovation, technology transfer, green growth, and the economic impacts of environmental and energy policies. She has been involved in several internationally funded research projects, most recently the H2020 project INNOPATHS, a major effort to characterise the EU energy transition, highlighting systemic barriers and enabling factors. She has published in several peer-reviewed journals, including the Journal of International Economics, the Journal of Environmental Economics and Management, the Review of Environmental Economics and Policy and Risk Analysis. She was one of the authors of the Deep Decarbonisation Pathways Project for Italy.