

Simposio Internacional: Evolución por cooperación. La obra de Lynn Margulis (1938-2011)

International Symposium: Evolution by cooperation. The work of Lynn Margulis (1938-2011)

Madrid, 12 y 13 de noviembre de 2012

Madrid, November 12-13, 2012

Regina Revilla

Director of Policy and Communication, Merck, Sharp & Dohme, España. Since July 2011, President of the Spanish Bioindustry Association (ASEBIO). Degree and Doctor in Pharmacy. Complutense University, Madrid. Master in Management from IESE Business School, Barcelona. Master in Business Administration (MBA), EOI, Madrid: Research Director (1975-83). JUSTE SAQF Laboratories, Deputy Director (1983-91). Technological and Industrial Development Center (CDTI): Technological Policy General Director (1989-91). Ministry of Industry: Pharmacy General Director (1991-94). Ministry of Health: Food General Secretary (1994-96), Ministry of Agriculture: Member of several National Organisms including Scientific and Technical Advisory Commission (CAYCIT) and Technological and Scientific Interministerial Commission (CICYT). Representative of several International Organizations including The Scientific and Technological Council of the OCDE, the CPMP (Evaluation of Medicines) of the EEC, the Pharmaceutical Specialities Council (CEF) and the EUREKA program. Member of the Board of Directors in several public companies. Has received many merits and distinctions including the Medal of the General Council of the Pharmaceutical Association and the Great Cross (collective) of Health for the creation of the National Commission for the Evaluation of Medicines (CONEM). Member of the Royal Academy of Pharmacy (Madrid). Author of hundreds of publications in national and international press.