GEORGIA PERAKIS

Georgia Perakis is the William F. Pounds Professor of Management and a Professor of Operations Research, Statistics and Operations Management at the MIT Sloan School of Management. She has been on the faculty at MIT Sloan since July 1998.

Perakis teaches courses and performs research on analytics, optimization, quantitative models for managers, dynamic pricing, and revenue management among others. In her research, she investigates the theory and practice of analytics. She is particularly interested on how to solve complex and practical problems in pricing, revenue management, supply chains, logistics and energy applications among others. She has widely published in some of the flagship journals of the field such as Operations Research, Management Science, POM, Mathematics of Operations Research and Mathematical Programming among others.

She has received the CAREER Award from the National Science Foundation and the PECASE Award from the Office of the President on Science and Technology. In 2016, she was elected as an INFORMS Fellow, that recognizes individuals for lifetime achievement to the field.

From 2009 to July 2015, Perakis served as the Sloan faculty Co-Director of the Leaders for Global Operations (LGO) Program at MIT (joint program between the Sloan School and the School of Engineering). She has also served as the group head of the Operations Management group at MIT Sloan School from 2010-2017. Currently, and since July 2017, she serves as the faculty director of the EMBA program at MIT Sloan.
