Cryptoasset y Blockchain

Cryptoasset and Blockchain

Madrid, 28, 29 y 30 de octubre / October 28-30, 2019

BIO

Will Venters

Dr. Will Venters is an Assistant Professor within the Department of Management at the London School of Economics and Political Sciences (www.willventers.com). His research focuses on the distributed development of widely distributed computing systems.

His recent research has focused on digital infrastructure, cloud computing and knowledge management systems (www.binaryblurring.com). He has researched various organisations including governmentrelated organisations, the construction industry, telecoms, financial services, health, and the Large Hadron Collider at CERN. Will has undertaken consultancy for a wide range of organisations, and has published articles in top journals including the Journal of Management Studies, MIS Quarterly, Information Systems Journal, Journal of Information Technology and Information Technology and People (where he is also an associated editor).